

THE PAC UPDATE

The latest news & updates from your public access channel, PAC 14

Welcoming The New Year

The new year is always filled with goals, and here at PAC 14, we are no exception. Our staff wants to figure out where we can improve and how we can better serve the public. This newsletter is only the first of many ideas we hope to roll out in 2021! We hope to use this newsletter to shed light on upcoming events in the area, both at PAC 14 and around the community.

PAC 14 Offers Local Producer Workshops

The process of creating a video from scratch can be intimidating and daunting. But have no fear, we want to help you grow and improve with every video you create. PAC 14 plans to host more workshops in 2021 that help our local producers.

In addition to editing workshops, we can offer tips on shooting your video and recording clean audio. The PAC 14 team has experience producing a variety of media including video, audio, still images, and graphics.

Workshops are held on the second-to-last Monday of every month. However, one-on-one instruction is also available. If you have any ideas on workshop topics you would like to see, or other ways to improve PAC 14, please send an email to pac14sby@gmail.com.

PAC 14's next editing workshop will be held on Jan. 18 at 6 p.m. Click the button below to read more about PAC 14 workshops and register for our next session.

Assateague Puppet Theater

Local Producer Spotlight

by Jen Myers

The National Park Service has more treasures than the wild ponies and crabbing at Assateague Island National Seashore. NPS Science Communicator Kelly Taylor and Ranger Matt Rowe are expertly entertaining as the hosts of Assateague Puppet Theater. Rangers Matt and Kelly are ecstatic to be able to bring the joys of the national park eco-system to our living rooms.

Kelly found PAC 14 and jumped on the opportunity to have a quick training session with Executive Director, Tom Taylor. Ranger Matt said of the experience, "Tom was not only helpful, but he is so passionate about what he does. We had fun learning how to produce and edit the show. The equipment was easy to work with, and the entire experience at PAC 14 was just great!"

The virtual puppet show is fully produced, and edited by Matt and Kelly. They even do the voice-overs! Matt and Kelly are hoping they can grow their virtual learning puppet show, and would benefit from volunteer help. If you or someone you know would like to help Matt and Kelly with the the puppet show please contact PAC 14 Office Manager, Jen at jxmyers@salisbury.edu.

Enjoy this fun and educational new puppet show which is full of stories and answers to questions

Community Events

JAN 16: WOR-WIC Student Registration

Student services will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. to help current and prospective credit students with application, enrollment coaching, financial aid and academic advising. For more information, call 410-334-2800.

Rangers Matt Rowe and Kelly Taylor

about the NPS wildlife, their special needs, habitat, and eating habits. As an added bonus, you can visit NPS.gov where there are printable post show activities. PAC 14 is thrilled to help the Assateague Puppet Theater grow!!

PAC Fact #01

PAC 14 officially opened its doors in Nov. 1998 as 'Access 26' and aired our first program in Mar. 1999!